ABOUT US

The Louisiana Civil Engineering Conference and Show (LCECS) is hosted by a group of volunteers who are currently active in the New Orleans branch of The American Society of Civil Engineers (ASCE) or The Louisiana Chapter of The American Concrete Institute (ACI.)

Professional registration requirements have made the Louisiana Civil Engineering Conference & Show an attractive venue to obtain as many as 13 professional development hours. We solicit papers and presentations in the technical disciplines as well as engineering practice and management. The Conference features presenters from government, regulation, academia, and the private sector. Our program includes opportunities to obtain the necessary ethics, professional development hours and a varied array of other timely and relevant topics.
